Part III

Questions 41-43 refer to the following conversation.

- M: Do you know how to get to the conference center?
- W: I'm not sure but I think Nancy knows, she met the new Vice-President there last week. Do you want her phone number?
- M: Sure. Maybe she can give me directions; I'm presenting a report there tomorrow. It is about how the pollution affects the health of people who live in big cities.
- W: That sounds great! I hope your presentation goes well.

Questions 44-46 refer to the following conversation.

- W: Good morning, City of Osborne <sup>giấy phép</sup> permits department.
- M: How long does it take to get another parking permit? I got into an accident last night and I think I lost it at the accident site.
- W: Oh, I am sorry to hear that. You can pick up a form at any library and just mail it back to us.
- M: That's not too bad. Thank you so much for your help.

Questions 47-49 refer to the following conversation.

- W: Did you change the <sup>bu-gi</sup> spark plugs in the blue <sup>xe tải</sup> van?
- M: No, I was going to check the brake fluid first, check the oil and battery, and then change the spark plugs.
- W: I will tell you what. Why don't you fix the <sup>hệ thống xả</sup> exhaust system first, and then change the spark plugs?
- M: OK. I can do that but I won't be able to finish everything by today though.

Questions 50-52 refer to the following conversation.

- M: I'm really disappointed with the marketing campaign for our new product line.
- W: Yes, the products tested well but they're not selling quickly.
- M: Let's meet with the advertising people and try to generate new ideas.
- <sup>create</sup>
<sup>produce</sup>

W: I've already called and asked them for the soonest day we can meet. However, it seems like they're already on another project now. They said that they can only review the advertisement but not have another meeting with us.

Questions 53-55 refer to the following conversation.

- W: Front desk, could you ask someone to send a bucket of ice to my room?
- M: There's an ice machine on every floor of the hotel.
- W: I know that. But I am not really in a good condition to get it myself. So could you have someone deliver it to my room, please?
- M: Alright. It will be sent up to your room in a minute.

Questions 56-58 refer to the following conversation.

- W: The Pan-European Film Festival is going to be right here in Seville this year. You do not know how excited I am!
- M: Oh, yeah. I heard that they are also highlighting the works of independent filmmakers this year. What does that mean?
- W: Well, in the previous years, only the filmmakers who had a company that supported them were eligible for the award. But now, even the films of a filmmaker who has had no outside support will be reviewed and awarded.
- M: Wow, that sounds fair enough!

Questions 59-61 refer to the following conversation.

- M: Mrs. Jackson, do you think I could switch my shift from night to day for tomorrow? I have a really important interview tomorrow night.
- W: Well, who's going to be working tomorrow? Is it Phil?
- M: Yes, it's Phil. I already asked him if he would work during the night for me and he said yes.
- W: Okay, but you do remember that the day's menu is different from the night's menu right? You should look through the menu tonight so that you know what the customers might order tomorrow. I'll leave my mobile phone number in case you have any questions.

Questions 62-64 refer to the following conversation.

- W: The color of this paint is not what the customer requested.
- M: Could you mix some more then, this paint is supposed to be picked up later today. Actually, it's almost the time for the customer to come to pick it up.
- W: OK. Well, I'll have to mix a new pack of white paint by hand since the machine doesn't seem to be working properly.
- M: Alright. Go ahead. Could you do it as fast as you can though? If we don't get this done on time, then we might have to give the customer another discount. Remember how we had to do that last time?

Questions 65-67 refer to the following conversation.

- W: Paul, can we put this advertisement in the newspaper by this weekend?
- M: For this advertisement to be put in the newspaper by this weekend, you know that it has to be submitted by this Thursday, right? And that will be pretty hard to do.
- W: Yes. It will be. Also, I forgot that Mr. Johnson needs to approve it first and he won't be back from his trip until Wednesday. So I guess we're going to have to give it another weekend then.
- M: Well, we do have two days to finish it, and we can show it to him as soon as he gets back. Would you like to give it a shot?

Questions 68-70 refer to the following conversation.

- M: Laura, do you have the agenda for the sales discussions?
- W: No I don't, Lorry has typed it up but I don't have a copy yet. You should get the copy from her, but she's not in her office right now. She took off for lunch a couple minutes ago.
- M: Are you serious? Could you tell her to bring the copy when she comes back from lunch? I totally forgot that today was our final meeting for the new sales plan. Now Mr. Young has another reason to fire me!
- W: Oh Peter, don't worry so much. Last time I even missed the meeting, but Mr. Young couldn't care less about it! You will be ok.

Part IV

Questions 71-73 refer to the following announcement.

- Good morning, ladies and gentlemen. We were supposed to begin our trip today on the river. However, over the past 24 hours heavy rains have caused the river to swell, making the conditions too dangerous for us to risk our rafting trip. I hope that we will be able to begin our 3-day trip tomorrow but, the weather forecast is calling for more rain therefore, we will have to wait and see. Because the trip has been delayed, the rafting company has scheduled alternative activities for you today, including indoor football, movie presentations, and a comedy show later this afternoon. If weather permits, we'll head out to the river tomorrow morning at 7 a.m.

Questions 74-76 refer to the following report.

- Statistics show that there are currently 20 million immigrants working illegally in the United States. As a result of this high number, American immigration authorities have begun programs to increase security at international borders and to issue personal identification cards to all American nationals. The US government has announced today that it is planning to reduce the number of illegal immigrants by half within 5 years.

Questions 77-79 refer to the following announcement.

- Ladies and gentlemen, the Captain has turned on the Fasten Seat Belt sign. If you haven't already done so, please stow your carry-on luggage underneath the seat in front of you or in an overhead bin. Please take your seat and fasten your seat belt. And also make sure your seat is moved back and folding trays are in their upright position. If you are seated next to an emergency exit, please read the special instructions card carefully. If you do not wish to perform the functions described in the event of an emergency, please ask a flight attendant to reseat you. At this time, we request that all cellular phones, radios and other electronic devices be turned off, as these items might interfere with the navigational equipment on this aircraft. If you have any questions about our flight today, please don't hesitate to ask one of your flight attendants. Thank you and enjoy your flight.

Questions 80–82 refer to the following talk.

As the president and CEO of Trans Automotives, I would like to welcome you to the Third Annual Trans Automobile Employee Conference. I have been in the auto repair business for more than 30 years and I have never seen the <sup>sâu sắc</sup> intense public interest in our industry as I am seeing today. Because of the high demand for our services and of course due to the <sup>tần tảo</sup> dedicated work of all of you, our profits have tripled over the past three quarters. So the board of the directors decided to give you <sup>toàn diện; toàn bộ</sup> across the board pay raises and increase research and development spending to prepare for the next ten years in business. Mr. Fowler, our CFO, will come up to the podium and share with you some details of the plan for the next decade and of course, about the raise you'll be getting in next month's paycheck.

Questions 83–85 refer to the following report.

Mayor Sylvia attended the opening service today for the Arbor Lake Youth Center. The center offers a variety of youth programs to residents living in the Northwest quarter of the city. Youths may take part in a number of fun classes such as arts and crafts, cartooning, martial arts, and dancing, as well as participate in various sports clubs. The center is a fun place for students to just hang out, chat with friends or use any of the recreational facilities such as the the games room, library, tennis courts, etc. The mayor enjoyed a lively game of basketball with club members and had fun painting a mask with students in an art class.

Questions 86–88 refer to the following short speech.

Members of the executive board, it gives me great pleasure today to introduce our Marketing Director, Adriana Santos. Ms. Santos comes to us from one of our competitors, Athena Sporting Goods. At her last employer—where we couldn't help but notice her—she was responsible for managing an advertising budget of more than 20 million dollars. She expanded Athena's share of the footwear market by 50 percent in Asia and South America. We are lucky to have lured her away, and we are looking to Adriana's cutting edge marketing and advertising skills to regain our lead in selling sports apparel and footwear around the world. Thank you, Adriana, for jumping ship. I'm sure Adriana will work closely with all of us during this challenging year of reorganization, reform, and, ultimately, renowned vision and profit. Please join me in warmly welcoming the newest member of our board.

Questions 89–91 refer to the following announcement.

Ladies and gentlemen, I'm afraid that the weather conditions have gotten worse, preventing our landing in the Calgary airport. The snowstorm has encompassed all of Alberta right now and we will have to return to Vancouver. We are very sorry for the inconvenience this has caused you and will try to make your wait as comfortable as possible. Upon our return to Vancouver, all passengers will have the option of sleeping at the Vancouver Airport Inn for a 70% rate reduction. You will also have access to the business lounge if you prefer to wait there. We will be landing at midnight and have rescheduled our flight to Calgary for tomorrow morning at 7:30a.m., weather permitting, and will arrive in Calgary two hours later at 10:30a.m. local time. Thank you for your patience and enjoy a safe and pleasant flight.

Questions 92–94 refer to the following report.

It is estimated that over 900,000 computers were dumped in landfills in Australia last year. Yet that makes up just 3.5 percent of how Australians currently dispose of their computers. The report says that 69 percent are stockpiled, 26 percent are reused and just 1.5 percent are recycled. If Australia does nothing in the next 10 years to recycle, reuse or dispose of its redundant computers, 1.7 million cubic meters of obsolete computers will be buried. Computers can be extremely hazardous to the environment. The problem is that they contain materials that most waste disposal sites have not been designed to accommodate. Computer monitors are even worse, because they contain soluble lead which can leach into the soil and into waterways.

As we all know, an important part of our corporate identity here in Ashton's has always been the diversity of our establishments. For example, Ashton's high-end chain, it's Top Head, which is at the top end of the market. Customers enjoy the atmosphere, the complimentary liquor, and the cuisine representing the finest continental recipes. The Top Head offers an upscale experience. In contrast, the family buffet has an entirely different personality. It's family-friendly and also offers hardy fare. This diversity is what enables us to compete in today's market.

It is my pleasure to introduce Meredith Fulton, an independent radio producer and winner of the Gregory F. Pearson award, the highest honor in broadcast journalism. Meredith has made her reputation not by producing programs on the hottest celebrity gossip or the latest public controversy, but by concentrating on the achievements of ordinary people from all walks of life. She has recently collected several of her most interesting stories in a new radio documentary called 'Voices on the Edge'.
